Raw fury west of dead

A place of smoke of arms and darkness, sin and damnation, wendigos and witches. A changing, chaotic world that takes shape from the memories, culture or beliefs of souls that pass through them. When a dead man wakes up only with the memory of a figure in black, he sets in motion a chain of events that have truly mythical consequences. Step into the boots of dead man William Mason (cast by Ron Perlman) and descend into the bleak and brave world of Purgatory in this cap-based twin-stick shooter that will put your skills to the test. Dodge behind the cover while trying to outgun your enemies into the unknown generated procedural hunting grounds. The Wild West has never been so dark. Purgatory, Wyoming, 1888. Barut ve karanlığın, günah ve lanetin, wendigo ve cadıların mekânı. Oradan geçenlerin hatıra, kültür ve inanışlarına göre şekillenen değişken ve kaotik bir dünya. Ölü bir adam, zihninde yalnız karalara bürünmüş bir suretin anısıyla dirir ve efsaneni sonuçlara neden olacak zincirleme bir olaylar silsilesini başlatır. Kendinizi o ölünün, William Mason'ın (Seslendiren: Ron Perlman) yerene koyun ve iki taraflı kontrollerin akıcılığıyla taktiksel siper kullanımı bir araya getiren bu hızlı tempolu siper/nişançlık oyunu ilegatory çetin dünyasına adımın at. Edin beceriliiride testing; duruma göre oluşan avlanma sahalarında siper alıp üstün nişançığınızla rakiplerinizi alt etmeye çalışın. Vahşi Batı hiç bu kadar karanlık olmamıştı. The fight is always fair in the West of Dead, no matter how difficult it may be, and you always feel like you're taking it for a reason. Drip-feed information by expertly judged, and haunt Purgatory, Wyoming background playing on has a way to get under your skin. 83/100 - PC Gamer West of Dead is a refreshing multi-genre takeover. It's a different kind of rostolite. And it's just a solid action game, which is a joy to play. It's extremely challenging and rewards the smart game, so what you get in the end is a satisfying, fun experience and invites you to time to learn its complexity. 8.5/10 – Gamecrate Purgatory, Wyoming, 1888. A place of gun smoke and darkness, sin and and wendigos and witches. A changing, chaotic world that takes shape from the memories, culture or beliefs of souls that pass through them. When a dead man wakes up only with the memory of a figure in black, he sets in motion a chain of events that have truly mythical consequences. Step into the boots of dead man William Mason (expressed by Ron Perlman) and descend into the grim and brave world of Purgatory in this shooter-based coating that combines the fluidity of twin-stick controls and tactical use of the cover. Your PC may not meet the hardware requirements; maybe you bought a game by mistake; Maybe you played the title for an hour and just didn't like it. Matter. Valve shall issue, on request, by help.steampowered.com, a refund for any reason if the application is made during the required return period and, in the case of games, if the title has been played for less than two hours. There are more details below, but even if you don't fit into the refund rules we described, you can request a refund anyway and we'll take a look. You will be granted a full refund of the purchase within one week of your approval. You will receive a refund in Steam Wallet funds or through the same payment method that you used to make the purchase. If, for any reason, Steam cannot issue a refund through the original payment method, Your Steam Wallet will be credited with the full amount. (Some payment methods available through Steam in your country may be available. Click here for a full list.) Steam Refund Offer, within two weeks of purchase and with less than two hours of play, applies to games and software applications in the Steam store. Here's an overview of how refunds work with other types of purchases. Refunds for Downloadable Content (Content in the Steam Store usable in another game or software application, DLC) Purchased from the Steam Store are refundable within fourteen days of purchase and if the underlying title has been played for less than two hours after the purchase of the DLC, as long as the DLC has not been consumed , modified or transferred. Please note that in some cases Steam will not be able to offer refunds for some third-party DLC (for example, if The DLC levels irreversibly a game character). These exceptions will be clearly marked as non-refundable on the Store page before purchase. Refunds on in-game Purchases Steam will provide refunds for in-game purchases in any game developed by Valve within forty-eight hours of purchase, as long as the in-game item has not been consumed, modified, or transferred. Third-party developers will have the option to enable refunds for in-game items in these terms. Steam will tell you at the time of purchase if the game developer has opted to offer refunds for the in-game item on you buy it. Otherwise, in-game purchases in non-Valve games are not refundable through Steam. Refunds for pre-purchased titles When you pre-purchase a title on Steam (and you paid for the title advance), you can request a refund at any time before the release of that title. The standard repayment period of 14 days/two hours also applies from the game launch date. Steam Wallet Refunds You can request a refund for Steam Wallet funds within fourteen days of purchase if they were purchased on Steam and if you have not used any of these funds. Renewable Subscriptions For some types of content and services, Steam provides regular access (e.g. monthly, annual) for which you pay on a recurring basis. If a revolving subscription was not used during the current billing cycle, you can request a refund within 48 hours of the original purchase or within 48 hours of any automatic renewal. Content is considered used if any games within the subscription were played during the current billing cycle or if the benefits or discounts included in the subscription were used, consumed, modified, or transferred. Please note that you can cancel an active subscription at any time by accessing your account details. Once cancelled, your subscription won't renew automatically, but you'll keep access to your subscription content and benefits until the end of your current billing cycle. Steam Hardware In the applicable time frame identified in the Hardware Refund Policy, you can request a refund for Steam hardware and accessories purchased through Steam for any reason. You must send the hardware back to us within fourteen (14) days of requesting the refund, following the instructions we offer. See the Hardware Refund Policy for detailed instructions on the return and cancellation process for Steam hardware and accessories. Refunds for packages You may receive a full refund for any package purchased from the Steam Store, as long as none of the items in the package has been transferred and the combined usage time for all items in the package is less than two hours. If a package includes an in-game item or a DLC that is not refundable, Steam will tell you if the entire package is refundable upon check-out. Purchases made outside Steam Valve cannot offer refunds for purchases made outside Steam (for example, CD keys or Steam wallet cards purchased from third parties). VAC Bans If you have been banned by vac (Valve Anti-Cheat system) on a game, you lose the right to refund this game. Video Content We cannot offer refunds for Steam video content (e.g. movies, shorts, series, episodes, and tutorials), unless the video is in a package with other refundable content (non-video). Refunds for unredeemed gifts can be refunded within the standard 14-day/two-hour refund period. Redeemed gifts can be under the same conditions if the recipient of the gift initiates the refund. Funds used to purchase the gift will be returned to the original buyer. Eu Right of Withdrawal For an explanation of how the EU's right of withdrawal for Steam customers works, click here. Refunds of abuse are designed to eliminate the risk of titles on Steam- not as a way to get free games. If we find that you are abusing refunds, we may no longer offer them to you. We do not consider it an abuse to claim a refund on a security that was purchased just before a sale and then immediately rebuying this title for the selling price. You can request a refund or get other support for Steam purchases at help.steampowered.com. Definitions Wherever we talk about the Personal Data below, we refer to any information that may identify you as a natural person (Personal Identification Information) or that may be indirectly connected to you by connecting it to personally identifiable information. Valve also processes anonymous, aggregated or non-aggregated data to analyze and produce statistics related to customer habits, usage patterns, and demographics as a group or individual. Such anonymous data does not allow identification of the customers to whom it relates. Valve may share anonymous, aggregated or non-aggregated data with third parties. Other capitalized terms in this Privacy Policy will have the meanings defined in the Steam Subscriber Agreement (SSA). 2. Why Valve collects and processes Valve data collects and processes personal data for the following reasons: a) where it is necessary for our agreement with you to provide a full gaming service and provide associated content and services; b) where necessary to comply with the legal obligations to which we are subject (e.g. our obligations to retain certain information under tax law); c) where necessary for the purposes of the legitimate and legal interests of Valve or a third party (e.g. the interests of our other customers), unless such interests are replaced by your prevailing legitimate interests and rights; or d) if you have given your consent to it. These reasons for the collection and processing of Personal Data determine and limit the personal data we collect and how we use it (Section 3 below), how long we store it (Section 4 below), who has access to it (section 5. below) and what rights and other control mechanisms are available to you as a user (Section 6. below). 3. Types and data sources that we collect 3.1 Account basics When you set up an account, Valve will collect your email address and country of residence. You also need to choose a user name and password. Providing this information is required to register a Steam user account. During account setup, the account is automatically assigned a number (Steam ID) that is later used to refer to your user account without personal identification information about you. We do not require you to provide or use your real name to set up a Steam User Account. 3.2 Transaction and Payment Data To make a transaction on Steam (for example, to purchase Content and Service Subscriptions or to finance your Steam Wallet), you may need to provide valve to activate the transaction. If you pay by credit card, you must provide Valve with typical credit card information (name, address, credit card number, expiry date and security code), which Valve will process and transmit to your chosen payment service provider to activate the transaction and perform anti-fraud checks. Valve will also receive data from the payment service provider for the same reasons. 3.3 Other data that you explicitly submit, we will collect and process your personal data whenever you explicitly provide it to us or send it as part of communicating with others on Steam, for example in Steam community forums, in conversations, or when you provide feedback or other user-generated content. This data includes: information you post, comment on, or track in any of our Content and Services; information sent via chat; the information you provide when you request information or assistance from us or purchase Content and Services from us, including the information necessary for processing your orders to the relevant payment merchant or, in the case of physical goods, to shipping service providers; The information you provide to us when you participate in competitions, competitions and tournaments or respond to surveys, such as your contact details. 3.4 Your use of Steam Customer and websites We collect a variety of information through your general interaction with Steam's websites, content and services. The personal data we collect may include, but is not limited to, browser and device information, data collected through automated electronic interactions, and app usage data. We will also follow your process on our websites and apps to check if you are not a bot and to optimize our services. 3.5 Use of Games and Other Subscriptions To provide you with services, we must collect, store and use various information about your activity in our Content and Services. Content information includes the Steam ID, as well as what is commonly referred to as game statistics. The game statistics include information about your game preferences, game progress, game time, and information about the device you're using, including which operating system you're using, device settings, device unique identifiers, and crash data. 3.6 Tracking data and cookies We use Cookies, which are text files placed on your computer, and similar technologies (e.g. web beacons, pixels, ad labels, and device identifiers) to help us analyze how we use our services, as well as to improve the services we offer, to improve the functionality of marketing, analytics or website. The use of cookies is standard on the internet. Although most web browsers automatically accept cookies, the decision to accept or not is yours. You can adjust your browser settings to prevent cookies from being received or to provide notifications whenever a cookie is sent to you. You can refuse to use cookies by selecting the appropriate settings on the Browser. The management of the use of cookies for each browser is further detailed on the following help page . However, please note that if you do this, you may not be able to access the full functionality of our websites. When you visit any of our services, our servers record your IP address, which is a number that is automatically assigned to the network of which your computer belongs. 3.7 Content Recommendations We may process the information collected in accordance with this Section 3 so that the content, products and services displayed on the Steam store pages and in the update messages displayed at the Steam Customer's launch can be adapted to meet your needs and populated with relevant recommendations and offers. This is done to improve the customer experience. You can prevent data from being processed this way by turning off automatic loading of the Steam store page and Steam notifications in the Interface section of Steam Client settings. Subject to your separate consent or if applicable email marketing legislation is explicitly permitted, Valve may send marketing messages about Valve's products and services to your email address. In such a case, we may also use the information collected to personalize such marketing messages, as well as to collect information about the opening of such messages and what links in their text you have followed. You may opt out or withdraw your consent to receive marketing emails at any time either by withdrawing your consent on the same page you previously provided it on or by clicking on the unsubscribe link provided in each marketing email. 3.8 Information necessary to detect violations We collect certain data that is necessary for the detection, investigation and prevention of fraud, deception and other violations of the SSA and applicable laws (Violations). Such data shall be used only for the purpose of detection, investigation, prevention and, where appropriate, action on the basis of such infringements and shall be stored only for the minimum period of time required for that purpose. If the data indicate that an infringement has occurred, we will continue to store the data for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims during the applicable statute of limitations or until a legal case related to it has been resolved. Please note that specific data stored for this purpose may not be disclosed to you if disclosure compromises the mechanism by which we detect, investigate and prevent such violations. 4. As long as we store the data, we will store your information only for as long as necessary to meet the for which the information is collected and processed or – where applicable law provides for a longer storage and storage period – for the storage and storage period required by law. After that, your Personal Data will be deleted, blocked or anonymized in accordance with applicable law. In particular: If you close your Steam, Steam, The data will be marked for deletion, except to the extent that the prevailing legal requirements or other legitimate purposes dictate longer storage. In some cases, personal data cannot be completely deleted to ensure consistency of the game experience or steam community market. For example, matches that you've played that affect the dates and scores of other players' matches won't be deleted; rather, the connection to these matches will be permanently anonymized. Please note that Valve must retain certain transactional data in accordance with legal commercial and tax law for up to ten (10) years. If you withdraw your consent on which the processing of your Personal Data or your child's Personal Data is based, we will delete your personal data or your child's personal data, respectively, without undue delay, to the extent that the collection and processing of your child's Personal Data was based on withdrawn consent. If you exercise your right to object to the processing of your Personal Data, we will review your objection and delete your Personal Data that we have processed for the purpose you have objected to without undue delay, unless there is another legal basis for the processing and retention of such data or unless applicable law obliges us to retain the data. 5. Anyone who has access to Data Valve does not sell personal data. However, we may share or provide access to each of the categories of Personal Data we collect as necessary for the following business purposes. 5.1 Valves and its subsidiaries may share your Personal Data with each other and use it to the extent necessary to achieve the purposes listed in Section 2 above. In the event of a reorganization, sale or merger, we may transfer Personal Data to the relevant third party, subject to applicable laws. 5.2 We may also share your Personal Data with our third-party service providers who provide customer support services in connection with the goods, Content and Services distributed through Steam. Your personal data will be used in accordance with this Privacy Policy and only to the extent necessary for the performance of customer support services. 5.3 In accordance with Internet standards, we may also share certain information (including ip address and identification of Steam content you want to access) with our third-party network providers that provide content delivery network services and game server services related to Steam. Providers Content delivery networks allow you to deliver the digital content you requested, for example when you use Steam, using a distributed server system that delivers your content, depending on your geographic location. 5.4 Our Google Analytics Website uses Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google, Inc. (Google). Google Analytics uses cookies to help site operators analyze how visitors use the site. The information generated by the cookie on visitors' use of the site will generally be transmitted to the stored by Google on servers in the United States. On this site, IP anonymization has been enabled. The IP addresses of users visiting Steam will be shortened. Only in exceptional cases will a full IP address be transferred to a Google server in the United States and shortened there. On behalf of the website operator, Google will use this information for the purpose of evaluating the website for its users, to compile reports on website activity, and to provide other services related to website activity and internet use for website operators. Google will not associate the transferred IP address in the context of Google Analytics with other data held by Google. You can refuse to use cookies by selecting the appropriate settings in your browser. However, please note that in this case, you may not be able to use the full functionality of this website. You can learn more about how Analytics collects and uses data www.google.com/policies/privacy/partners. In addition, you can prevent Google from collecting and processing data about your use of the website by downloading and installing the browser plug-in via the following link: . 5.5 We make certain Steam User Account data available to other players and our partners through the Steamworks API. This information can be accessed by anyone by querying their Steam ID. At the very least, the public personal name you have chosen to represent you on Steam and the avatar image are accessible in this way, as well as whether you have received a cheating ban in a multiplayer game. The accessibility of any additional information about you can be controlled through the Steam Community user profile page; Publicly available data on the profile page can be accessed automatically through the Steamworks api. In addition to publicly available information, game developers and publishers have access to certain information in the Steamworks API directly related to the users of the games they operate. This information shall include at least ownership of the game in question. Depending on the Steamworks services that are implemented in the game, it can also include information about the leaderboard, your in-game progress, achievements you've completed, your multiplayer matchmaking information, in-game elements and other information needed to operate the game and provide support for it. For more information about the Steamworks services that a particular game has implemented, please refer to the store page. Although we do not knowingly share personally identifiable information about you through the Steamworks api, it would be your real name or email address, any information you share Your. 5.6 The Steam Community includes message boards, forums and/or chat areas, where users can exchange ideas and communicate each other. When posting a message on a panel, forum or chat area, please be aware that the information is made available to the public online; therefore, do so at your own risk. If your Personal Data is posted on one of our community forums against your will, please use the reporting feature and the Steam Help site to request their removal. 5.7 Valve may allow you to connect your Steam User Account to a third-party account. If you agree to connect your accounts, Valve may collect and combine the information Valve has allowed you to receive from a third party with information about the Steam User Account to the extent permitted by your consent. If the connection of accounts requires the transmission of information about yourself from Valve to a third party, you will be informed about it before the connection takes place and you will be given the opportunity to consent to the connection and transmission of your information. The third party's use of your information will be subject to the third party's privacy policy, which we encourage you to review. 5.8 Valve may issue Personal Data to comply with court orders or laws and regulations that require us to disclose such information. 6. Your rights and control mechanisms Data protection laws in the European Economic Area, California and other territories grant their residents certain rights in relation to their personal data. While other jurisdictions may offer fewer legal rights, we provide our customers around the world with tools to exercise these rights. To allow you to exercise your data protection rights in a simple way, we offer a dedicated section on the Steam Support page. This gives you access to your personal data, allows you to rectify and delete it where necessary and object to its use where you think it is necessary. To access it, sign in to the Steam support page at and choose My Account menu items -> Data related to your Steam account. In most cases, you can access, manage, or delete Personal Data in the Privacy Dashboard, but you can contact Valve with questions or requests through the contact processes described in sections 8 and 10 below. As a resident of the European Economic Area, you have the following rights with respect to your personal data: 6.1 Right of access. You have the right to access your personal data that we hold about you, i.e. the right to free (i) information if your personal data is retained, (ii) access to and/or (iii) duplicates of the personal data retained. You may use the right to access your personal data through the Privacy Dashboard. If the request affects the rights and freedoms of others or is manifestly unfounded or excessive, we reserve the right to charge a reasonable fee (taking into account the administrative costs of providing information or communication or refusing to take action following the request. 6.2 Right to rectification. If we process your Personal Data, we will endeavour to ensure, by implementing appropriate measures, that your Personal Data is accurate and up-to-date for the purposes for which it was collected. If your personal data is inaccurate or incomplete, you may change the information you have provided through the Privacy Dashboard. 6.3 Right to erasure. You have the right to obtain the deletion of personal data concerning you if the reason we may collect them (see Section 2. above) no longer exists or if there is another legal reason for deleting them. For certain Personal Data items, please edit them through the Privacy Dashboard or request deletion via the Steam Support page. You can also request that your Steam user account be deleted via the Steam support page. As a result of deleting the Steam User Account, you will lose access to Steam services, including the Steam User Account, subscriptions and game-related information related to the Steam User Account, and the ability to access other services for which you use the Steam User Account. We allow you to restore your Steam User Account within a grace period of 30 (thirty) days from the time you request to delete your Steam User Account. This feature allows you not to lose your account by mistake, because of loss of account credentials or because of hacking. During the suspension period, we will be able to complete financial and other activities that you may have initiated before submitting the request to delete your Steam user account. After the grace period, the Personal Data associated with your account will be updated. Above. In some cases, deleting the Steam User Account and therefore deleting personal data is complicated. Namely, if your account has a business relationship with Valve, it would be because of your work for a game developer, you will only be able to delete the Steam User Account after you have transferred this role to another user or dissolved the business relationship. In some cases, given the complexity and number of applications, the period of deletion of personal data may be extended, but not more than two additional months. 6.4 Right to object. Where the processing of your personal data is based on legitimate interests in accordance with Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR/Section 2.c) of this Privacy Policy, you have the right to object to such processing. If you object, we will no longer process your Personal Data, unless there are reasons compelling and prevalent for processing, as described in Article 21 of the GDPR; in particular where the data are necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal proceedings. You also have the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority. 6.5 Right to restrict the processing of your personal data You have the right to obtain restriction on the processing of your Personal Data under the conditions set out in Article 18 of the GDPR. 6.6 Right to portability of personal data You have the right to receive your personal data in a structured, commonly used and readable format and you have the right to transmit this data to another controller under the conditions set out in Article 20 of the GDPR. Valve makes your personal data available in HTML format structured through the privacy dashboard, as described above. 6.7 Right to post-mortem control of your personal data If French data protection law is applicable to you, you have the right to set guidelines for the preservation, deletion and transmission of personal data after your death, in accordance with Article 40-1 of Law No. 7. Children The minimum age to create a Steam user account is 13 years. Valve will not knowingly collect personal data from children under this age. If certain countries apply a higher age of consent to the collection of personal data, Valve requires parental consent before creating a Steam User Account and collecting the personal data associated with it. Valve encourages parents to instruct their children not to give personal information when online. 8. Contact Information You can contact Valve's Data Protection Officer at the address below. While reviewing any request sent by email, please note that to combat fraud, harassment and identity theft, the only way to access, rectify or delete your data is by logging in with the Steam User Account at and selecting menu items -> My Account -> view your account details. We will also follow your process on our websites and apps to check if you are not a bot and to optimize our services. 3.5 Use of Games and Other Subscriptions To provide you with services, we must collect, store and use various information about your activity in our Content and Services. Content information includes the Steam ID, as well as what is commonly referred to as game. The game statistics include information about your game preferences, game progress, game time, and information about the device you're using, including which operating system you're using, device settings, device unique identifiers, and crash data. 3.6 Tracking data and cookies We use Cookies, which are text files placed on your computer, and similar technologies (e.g. web beacons, pixels, ad labels, and device identifiers) to help us analyze the analysis users use our services, as well as to improve the services we offer, to improve the functionality of marketing, analytics or website. The use of cookies is standard on the internet. Although most web browsers automatically accept cookies, the decision to accept or not is yours. You can adjust your browser settings to prevent cookies from being received or to provide notifications whenever a cookie is sent to you. You can refuse to use cookies by selecting the appropriate settings in your browser. The management of the use of cookies for each browser is further detailed on the following help page . However, please note that if you do this, you may not be able to access the full functionality of our websites. When you visit any of our services, our servers record your IP address, which is a number that is automatically assigned to the network of which your computer belongs. 3.7 Content Recommendations We may process the information collected in accordance with this Section 3 so that the content, products and services displayed on the Steam store pages and in the update messages displayed at the Steam Customer's launch can be adapted to meet your needs and populated with relevant recommendations and offers. This is done to improve the customer experience. You can prevent data from being processed this way by turning off automatic loading of the Steam store page and Steam notifications in the Interface section of Steam Client settings. Subject to your separate consent or if applicable email marketing legislation is explicitly permitted, Valve may send marketing messages about Valve's products and services to your email address. In such a case, we may also use the information collected to personalize such marketing messages, as well as to collect information about the opening of such messages and what links in their text you have followed. You may opt out or withdraw your consent to receive marketing emails at any time either by withdrawing your consent on the same page you previously provided it on or by clicking on the unsubscribe link provided in each marketing email. 3.8 Information necessary to detect violations We collect certain data that is necessary for the detection, investigation and prevention of fraud, deception and other violations of the SSA and applicable laws (Violations). Such data shall be used only for the purpose of detection, investigation, prevention and, where appropriate, action on the basis of such infringements and shall be stored only for the minimum period of time required for that purpose. If the data indicate that an infringement has occurred, we will continue to store the data for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims during the applicable statute of limitations or until a legal case related to it has been resolved. Please note that specific data stored for this purpose may not be disclosed to you if disclosure compromises the mechanism by which we investigate and prevent such violations. 4. As long as we store the data, we will store your information only for as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes for which the information is collected and processed or - if applicable law provides for a longer storage and retention period - for the storage and storage period required by law. After that, your Personal Data will be deleted, blocked or anonymized in accordance with applicable law. In particular: If you close your Steam User Account, your Personal Data will be marked for deletion, unless prevailing legal requirements or other legitimate purposes require longer storage. In some cases, personal data cannot be completely deleted to ensure consistency of the game experience or steam community market. For example, matches that you've played that affect the dates and scores of other players' matches won't be deleted; rather, the connection to these matches will be permanently anonymized. Please note that Valve must retain certain transactional data in accordance with legal commercial and tax law for up to ten (10) years. If you withdraw your consent on which the processing of your Personal Data or your child's Personal Data is based, we will delete your personal data or your child's personal data, respectively, without undue delay, to the extent that the collection and processing of your child's Personal Data was based on withdrawn consent. If you exercise your right to object to the processing of your Personal Data, we will review your objection and delete your Personal Data that we have processed for the purpose you have objected to without undue delay, unless there is another legal basis for the processing and retention of such data or unless applicable law obliges us to retain the data. 5. Anyone who has access to Data Valve does not sell personal data. However, we may share or provide access to each of the categories of Personal Data we collect as necessary for the following business purposes. 5.1 Valves and its subsidiaries may share your Personal Data with each other and use it to the extent necessary to achieve the purposes listed in Section 2 above. In the event of a reorganization, sale or merger, we may transfer Personal Data to the relevant third party, subject to applicable laws. 5.2 We may also share your Personal Data with our third-party service providers who provide customer support services in connection with distributed goods, Content and Services Via Steam. Your personal data will be used in accordance with this Privacy Policy and only to the extent necessary for the performance of customer support services. 5.3 In accordance with Internet standards, we may also share certain information (including ip address and identification of Steam content you want to access) with our third-party network providers that provide content delivery network services and game server services related to Steam. Our content delivery network providers activate delivering the digital content you requested, for example when using Steam, using a distributed server system that delivers your content, depending on your geographic location. 5.4 Our Google Analytics Website uses Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google, Inc. (Google). Google Analytics uses cookies to help site operators analyze how visitors use the site. The information generated by the cookie regarding visitors' use of the site will generally be transmitted and stored by Google on servers in the United States. On this site, IP anonymization has been enabled. The IP addresses of users visiting Steam will be shortened. Only in exceptional cases will a full IP address be transferred to a Google server in the United States and shortened there. On behalf of the website operator, Google will use this information for the purpose of evaluating the website for its users, to compile reports on website activity, and to provide other services related to website activity and internet use for website operators. Google will not associate the transferred IP address in the context of Google Analytics with other data held by Google. You can refuse to use cookies by selecting the appropriate settings in your browser. However, please note that in this case, you may not be able to use the full functionality of this website. You can learn more about how Analytics collects and uses data www.google.com/policies/privacy/partners. In addition, you can prevent Google from collecting and processing data about your use of the website by downloading and installing the browser plug-in via the following link: . 5.5 We make certain Steam User Account data available to other players and our partners through the Steamworks API. This information can be accessed by anyone by querying their Steam ID. At the very least, the public personal name you have chosen to represent you on Steam and the avatar image are accessible in this way, as well as whether you have received a cheating ban in a multiplayer game. The accessibility of any additional information about you can be controlled through the Steam Community user profile page; Publicly available data on the profile page can be accessed automatically through the Steamworks api. In addition to publicly available information, game developers and publishers have access to certain information in the Steamworks API directly related to the users of the games they operate. This information shall include at least ownership of the game in question. Depending on the Steamworks services that are implemented in the game, it may also include Leaderboard information, your in-game progress, achievements you've completed, your multiplayer matchmaking information, in-game elements, and other information needed to operate the game and provide support for it. For more information about what Steamworks Steamworks a certain game implemented, please review its store page. Although we do not knowingly share personally identifiable information about you through the Steamworks api, it would be your real name or email address, any information you share about yourself. 5.6 The Steam Community includes message boards, forums and/or chat areas, where users can exchange ideas and communicate with each other. When posting a message on a panel, forum or chat area, please be aware that the information is made available to the public online; therefore, do so at your own risk. If your Personal Data is posted on one of our community forums against your will, please use the reporting feature and the Steam Help site to request their removal. 5.7 Valve may allow you to connect your Steam User Account to a third-party account. If you agree to connect your accounts, Valve may collect and combine the information Valve has allowed you to receive from a third party with information about the Steam User Account to the extent permitted by your consent. If the connection of accounts requires the transmission of information about yourself from Valve to a third party, you will be informed about it before the connection takes place and you will be given the opportunity to consent to the connection and transmission of your information. The third party's use of your information will be subject to the third party's privacy policy, which we encourage you to review. 5.8 Valve may issue Personal Data to comply with court orders or laws and regulations that require us to disclose such information. 6. Your rights and control mechanisms Data protection laws in the European Economic Area, California and other territories grant their residents certain rights in relation to their personal data. While other jurisdictions may offer fewer legal rights, we provide our customers around the world with tools to exercise these rights. To allow you to exercise your data protection rights in a simple way, we offer a dedicated section on the Steam Support page. This gives you access to your personal data, allows you to rectify and delete it where necessary and object to its use where you think it is necessary. To access it, sign in to the Steam support page at and choose My Account menu items -> Data related to your Steam account. In most cases, you can access, manage or delete Personal Data in the Privacy Dashboard, but you can contact Valve with or requests through the contact processes described in sections 8 and 10 below. As a resident of the European Economic Area, you have the following rights with respect to your personal data: 6.1 Right of access. You have the right to access your Personal Data that we hold about you, i.e. the right to request information on the retention of your personal data. You may use the right to access your personal data through the Privacy Dashboard. If the request affects the rights and freedoms of others or is manifestly unfounded or excessive, we reserve the right to charge a reasonable fee (taking into account the administrative costs of providing the information or communication or taking the requested measures) or refusing to take action following the request. 6.2 Right to rectification. If we process your Personal Data, we will endeavour to ensure, by implementing appropriate measures, that your Personal Data is accurate and up-to-date for the purposes for which it was collected. If your personal data is inaccurate or incomplete, you may change the information you have provided through the Privacy Dashboard. 6.3 Right to erasure. You have the right to obtain the deletion of personal data concerning you if the reason we may collect them (see Section 2. above) no longer exists or if there is another legal reason for deleting them. For certain Personal Data items, please edit them through the Privacy Dashboard or request deletion via the Steam Support page. You can also request that your Steam user account be deleted via the Steam support page. As a result of deleting the Steam User Account, you will lose access to Steam services, including the Steam User Account, subscriptions and game-related information related to the Steam User Account, and the ability to access other services for which you use the Steam User Account. We allow you to restore your Steam User Account within a grace period of 30 (thirty) days from the time you request to delete your Steam User Account. This feature allows you not to lose your account by mistake, because of loss of account credentials or because of hacking. During the suspension period, we will be able to complete financial and other activities that you may have initiated before submitting the request to delete your Steam user account. After the grace period, the Personal Data associated with your account will be updated. Above. In some cases, deleting the Steam User Account and therefore deleting personal data is complicated. Namely, if your account has a business relationship with Valve, it would be because of your work for a game developer, you will only be able to delete the Steam User Account after you have transferred this role to another user or business relationship. In some cases, given the complexity and number of applications, the period of deletion of personal data may be extended, but not more than two additional months. 6.4 Right to object. Where the processing of your personal data is based on legitimate interests in accordance with Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR/Section 2.c) of this Privacy Policy, you have the right to object to such processing. If you object, we will only process your Personal Data are compelling and predominant legitimate reasons for processing, as described in Article 21 of the GDPR; in particular where the data are necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal proceedings. You also have the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority. 6.5 Right to restrict the processing of your personal data You have the right to obtain restriction on the processing of your Personal Data under the conditions set out in Article 18 of the GDPR. 6.6 Right to portability of personal data You have the right to receive your Personal Data in a structured, commonly used and readable format and you have the right to transmit this data to another controller under the conditions set out in Article 20 of the GDPR. Valve makes your personal data available in HTML format structured through the privacy dashboard, as described above. 6.7 Right to post-mortem control of your personal data If French data protection law is applicable to you, you have the right to set guidelines for the preservation, deletion and transmission of personal data after your death, in accordance with Article 40-1 of Law No. 7. Children The minimum age to create a Steam user account is 13 years. Valve will not knowingly collect personal data from children under this age. If certain countries apply a higher age of consent to the collection of personal data, Valve requires parental consent before creating a Steam User Account and collecting the personal data associated with it. Valve encourages parents to instruct their children not to give personal information when online. 8. Contact Information You can contact Valve's Data Protection Officer at the address below. While reviewing any request sent by email, please note that to combat fraud, harassment and identity theft, the only way to access, rectify or delete your data is by logging in with the Steam User Account at and selecting menu items -> My Account -> view your account details. Valve Corporation Att. Data Protection Officer P.O. Box 1688 Bellevue, WA 98009 European Data Protection Information Representative: Valve GmbH Att. Legal R dungsmarkt 9 D-20459 Hamburg Germany 9. Additional information for users in the European Economic Area, the United Kingdom and Switzerland Although the EU-U. The S Privacy Shield and the Switzerland-U.S. Privacy Shield were considered null and legal as a basis for data transfers to the U.S., Valve and TR Technical Services Inc., its wholly-owned U.S. subsidiary (commonly referred to as Valve) continues to comply with the Privacy Shield Principles with respect to any personal data transferred from the EU, the United Kingdom and Switzerland to the United States under the Privacy Shield. If there is a conflict between the terms of this privacy policy and the Privacy Shield Principles, the principles will govern. To learn more about the Privacy Shield programme and to please visit . The Federal Trade Commission has jurisdiction over Valve's compliance with the Privacy Shield Principles. In accordance with the Principles, Valve will remain liable if third-party agents process personal information on our behalf in a manner incompatible with the Principles, unless Valve proves that it is not responsible for the event that caused the damage. Individuals in the EU, UK and Switzerland who have questions or complaints about our compliance with the principles should first contact Valve here. If we do not address your concern satisfactorily, please contact our third-party dispute resolution provider in the USA (free of charge) at . As explained in the Privacy Shield (documentation, certain residual claims that are not resolved by other means may be subject to binding arbitration. In this case, an arbitration option will be made available to you. 10.
